Ethnic Observances

"Do Not Stand Silent: Remembering Kristallnacht 1938" That is the theme of this year's Days of Remembrance; for Victims of the Holocaust, April 27 - May 4, 2008. On November 9, 1938, the Nazis unleashed a wave of pogroms against Germany's Jews. In the space of a few hours, thousands

Kristallnacht ("Night of Broken Glass") was the shattered store windows and homes were damaged or destroyed. This and Fort Leonard Wood came to be called to remember what happened so as not to repeat a history such as this ever again.

The US Army celebrates Asian Pacific Heritage during the month of May each year. This year's theme is: "Leadership, Diversity, Harmony - Gateway to Success". Ethnic observance are educational in nature and provide all people with a chance to learn about other people and cultures.

Americans to American Observance are conducted to awareness, mutual respect and understanding. Observances are designed to promote cross-cultural and cross-gender awareness and promote harmony among all military members, their families, and the civilian work force. These activities are extensions of the equal opportunity education and training objectives. They are set aside annually to recognize the achievements and contributions made by members of specific groups in our society. The focus of the observance should be directed toward encouraging interaction and

The EO Community

We thank all who supported and participated in the inaugural Community Diversity Walk. Diversity was celebrated in a big way, as thousands of Soldiers and hundreds of civilians took part in the Community Diversity Walk. As stated by SFC Alston, "Many people dream of dwelling in a place where they can live in harmony with others and there are always opportunities for our communities to participate in the future. Community participation during the planning of and execution of the ethnic observances are yet another way to participate in bringing together our communities. We welcome one and all who wish to volunteer their time and talents during these events, and we welcome all positive ideas that can lead to unity one step at a time. Thank you again for supporting Equal Opportunity. "It's not just another program... It's a way of life!"
